sebald is the joyce of the 21st century the times what begins as the record of w g sebald s own journey on foot through coastal east anglia from lowestoft to bungay becomes the conductor of evocations of people and cultures past and present from chateaubriand thomas browne swinburne and conrad to fishing fleets skulls and silkworms the result is an intricately patterned and haunting book on the transience of all things human a novel of ideas with a difference it is nothing but ideas formally dexterous fearlessly written why shouldn t an essay be a novel and unremittingly arcane by the end i was in tears teju cole guardian this volume provides a dissection of w g sebald s fiction and his acclaim a german writer who taught in england for 30 years he published four novels first in german and then in english his work gained even greater acclaim after his death in 2001 just months after the publication of his title austerlitz

summary w g sebald frequently mentioned in the same breath as franz kafka and vladimir nabokov is one of the most important european writers of recent decades he has been lauded by such major cultural commentators as susan sontag and paul auster and he has combined wide public appeal with universal critical acclaim his work is concerned with questions of memory exile representation and above all else history but his approach to history is strikingly different from conventional historiographical writing on the one hand and from the historical novel on the other his texts are hybrid in nature mixing fiction biography historiography travel writing and memoir and incorporating numerous photographic images this volume seeks to respond to the complexities of sebald s image of history by presenting essays by a team of international scholars all of whom are acknowledged sebald experts it offers a unique and exciting perspective on the dazzling work of one of the major literary figures of our times publisher description

w g sebald s books are sui generis hybrids of fiction travelogue autobiography and historical expos in which a narrator both sebald and not sebald comments on the quick blossoming of natural wonders and the long deaths that come of human atrocities all his narratives are punctuated with images murky photographs architectural plans engravings paintings newspaper clippings inserted into the prose without captions and often without obvious connection to the words that surround them this important volume includes a rare 1993 interview called but the written word is not a true document a conversation with w g sebald about photography and literature in which sebald talks exclusively about his use of photographs it contains some of sebald s most illuminating and poetic remarks about the topic yet in it he discusses barthes the photograph s appeal the childhood image of kafka family photographs and even images he never used in his writings in addition searching for sebald positions sebald within an art historical tradition that begins with the surrealists continues through joseph beuys and blossoms in the recent work of christian boltanski and gerhard richter and tracks his continuing inspiration to artists such as tacita dean and helen mirra an international roster of artists and scholars unpacks the intricacies of his unique method seventeen theoretical essays approach sebald through the multiple filters of art history krauss film studies kluge cultural theory benjamin psychoanalysis freud and especially photographic history and theory barthes kracauer and 17 modern and contemporary art projects are read through a sebaldian filter if sebald s artistic output acts as a touchstone for new critical theory being written on post medium photographic practices searching for sebald suggests a model for new investigations in the burgeoning field of visual studies the german novelist poet and critic w g seald 1944 2001 has in recent years attracted a phenomenal international following for his evocative prose works such as die ausgewanderten the emigrants die ringe des saturn the rings of saturn and austerlitz spellbinding elegiac narratives which through their deliberate blurring of genre boundaries and provocative use of photography explore questions of heimat and exile memory and loss history and natural history art and nature saturn s moons a w g seald handbook brings together in one volume a wealth of new critical and visual material on seald s life and works covering the many facets and phases of his literary and academic careers as teacher as scholar and critic as colleague and as collaborator on translation lavishly illustrated the handbook also contains a number of rediscovered short pieces by w g seald hitherto unpublished interviews a catalogue of his library and selected poems and tributes as well as extensive primary and secondary bibliographies details of audiovisual material and interviews and a chronology of life and works drawing on a range of original sources from seald s nachlass the most important part of which is now held in the deutsches literaturarchiv marbach saturn s moons<sup>6</sup> will be an invaluable sourcebook for future seald studies in english and german alike complementing and augmenting recent critical works on subjects such as history memory modernity reader response and the visual the contributors include mark anderson anthea bell ulrich von buelow jo catling michael hulse florian radvan uwe schuette clive scott richard sheppard gordon turner stephen watts and luke williams jo catling teaches in the school of literature at the university of east anglia and richard hibbitt in the department of french at the university of leeds

w g seald s writing has been widely recognized for its intense nuanced engagement with the holocaust the allied bombing of germany in wwii and other episodes of violence throughout history through his inventive use of narrative form and juxtaposition of image and text seald s work has offered readers new ways to think about remembering and representing trauma in seald s vision carol jacobson examines the author s prose novels and poems illuminating the ethical and aesthetic questions that shaped his remarkable oeuvre through the trope of vision jacobson explores aspects of seald s writing and the way the author s indirect depiction of events highlights the ethical imperative of representing history while at the same time calling into question the possibility of such representation jacobson s lucid readings of seald s work also consider his famous juxtaposition of images and use of citations to explain his interest in the vagaries of perception isolating different ideas of vision in some of his most noted works including rings of saturn austerlitz and after nature as well as in seald s interviews poetry art criticism and his lecture air war and literature jacobson introduces new perspectives for understanding the distinctiveness of seald s work and its profound moral implications the masterworks of w g seald now in gorgeous new covers by the famed designer peter mendelsund new directions is delighted to announce beautiful new editions of these three classic seald novels including his two greatest works the emigrants and the rings of saturn all three novels are distinguished by their translations every line of which seald himself made pitch perfect slaving to carry into english all his essential elements the shadows the lambent fallings back nineteenth century germanic undertones tragic elegiac notes and his unique quiet wit for decades virginia woolf s work has been seen as part of the women s writing canon elizabeth abel extracts woolf from this women s tradition to position her in a different light one that shows woolf s role in a far reaching modernist genealogy abel traces the strong echoes of woolf in the work of four major writers from diverse cultural contexts nella larsen james baldwin roland barthes and w g seald as abel shows what woolf called the odd affinities between herself and these successors give us an altogether different picture of the development of transnational modernism with woolf as a shadowy but important connection among disparate writers by charting new pathways of twentieth century literary transmission odd affinities will appeal to students and scholars working in new modernist studies comparative literature and african american studies likened to proust to günter grass and virginia woolf w g seald 1944 2001 is one of the most important writers of our time combining a wide readership with universal critical acclaim now available in paperback this first collection to appear in english provides a thorough assessment of his achievement through newly commissioned essays by leading international scholars offering interdisciplinary perspectives on seald s work features the first full length critical book on seald to appear in english all new essays by leading international scholars covers a range of topics that interested seald such as landscape nature travel haunting and memory presents interdisciplinary perspectives on seald s work though he died in the last decade of the twentieth century the satirist social thinker memoirist and dramatist elias canetti lives on into the present testifying to the author's undeniable cultural life the essays gathered together here represent a wide swath of the latest canetti scholarship contributors examine canetti's jewish identity the marxist politics of his youth his influence on writers as diverse as bachmann jelinek and seald the undiscovered poetry of his literary testament nachlass his status as a self cancelling satirist and his complex and sometimes ambivalent citation of chinese and french cultural icons in addition this volume presents a treatment of canetti as philosopher as contributor to the great debate on the genesis of violence as a chronicler of the wwii exile experience as well as a personal reminiscence by one of the great canetti scholars of our time gerald stieg the worlds of elias canetti challenges conventional wisdom about this nobel laureate and opens up new areas to scholarly investigation the worlds of elias canetti convenes diverse disciplinary perspectives on one of the most enigmatic and ambidextrous authors of the twentieth century an internationally renowned team of scholars places canetti's social thought and literary oeuvre within intriguing new contexts highlighting as yet underexplored connections within areas such as philosophy jewish studies cultural anthropology literary intertextuality and beyond compellingly this volume introduces us to a canetti we have not yet known and one who equally belongs to the twenty first century in its scope and originality the worlds of elias canetti sets a new standard and not just for canetti scholarship © jochen vogt professor of german literature university of essen when the literary world recieved news of the death of w g sebald in december 2001 shortly after the publication of his last novel austerlitz in english translation friends fellow writers and critics were united in their grief and conviction that literature had lost one of its truly exceptional protagonists one year later this sense of bereavement in the literary community seems even stronger this volume brings together the papers given at the institute of germanic studies w g sebald memorial day on 31 january 2003 among jews in the diaspora recent years and especially recent months have seen a growing disenchantment with israeli politics and with israel's claim as the only legitimate basis for jewish existence at the same time european jews have begun to reassert their own traditions in contrast to both america and israel as the case of german jewry makes clear much of this return of diaspora comes from the jewish periphery women russian jewish immigrants jews not recognised by jewish law and gays and lesbians but german jews are also facing the involvement of non jewish germans in jewish culture as both a boost and as an irritant ten internationally distinguished scholars are addressing these and other issues
